

New summer program at riding centre

Dreamcatcher Meadows, Pemberton's professional horse and rider training centre, is offering a new summer program for beginner and advanced riders of all ages.

Dreamcatcher Meadows is an established training facility that is enjoyed by riding enthusiasts of all levels from Pemberton and throughout the Lower Mainland.

Jill Giese works with all riders to achieve their objectives and gain confidence and experience from working in our indoor arena and outdoor rings and participating in clinics and shows.

Dreamcatcher Meadows accesses over 10 kilometres of riding trails along the Lillooet River. The training centre offers the highest level of instruction in dressage, jumping and general horse skills. Dreamcatcher encourages their riders to share, lease or own their own horses. They offer a full-service indoor, mirrored arena, two outdoor arenas, a fully-equipped jumping field, breeding, boarding and training facilities, and they operate 365 days a year.

Each young person has a program designed with his or her particular needs in mind. Group support and activities are encouraged as they participate in our own "mock" shows, learn to ride to music as a quadrille and venture as a group to competitions in Squamish and Vancouver. The children also enjoy fun on the sandy beach bordering the Lillooet River.

Many of their "Dream Team" graduates have gone on to serious competition vying for Canadian team places or have entered university programs to pursue equestrian involvement as a profession. People of all ages and professions enjoy the lessons.
